The reader board would not be protected from the elements. Will it leak when it rains and ruin our paper?

It's weather resistant because of the plexi glass front and marine-grade corkboard. The paper inside is protected from the elements.

damaged posts & holes were not pre-drilled

I am overall disappointed in this product. I wrote another review earlier even before posts were opened. Wrappers were fine so damage to post happened at factory and holes were not pre drilled in legs to screw sign and posts together. This message board is too costly for what you receive. I had to drill and assemble too much & I wished I had bought materials & Built it myself ($250.00).

Perfect solution for our neighborhood.

We bought one a couple months ago to try it out. It's weather resistant because of the plexi glass front. Rain doesn't get inside. We ordered 5 more and just received them this week. Replaced wood message boards that have rotted, these will be around long after I'm gone!

Sturdy construction

We purchased to install in a garden as part of an Eagle project. We were pleased with the craftsmanship and ease of putting together. We wish that the tools needed were included in the specs or description as a manual screwdriver was not as effective as a power drill.

Composite type plastic but door/track is problem

There are no handles on sliding plastic sheet/doors so hard to slide back and forth. If you are not going into the message board on a regular basis it will work OK. A opening one piece door would be more suitable.
