- Estimated Lead Time: Lead Time is an estimate only and is based on business days. Holidays and weekends are not included in this estimate. Orders with one or more items with an estimated lead time of 1 or more business days are not eligible for same day shipping. These orders are generally held until all items are ready to ship. Orders placed before 1pm Eastern Time US, on business days, begin being processed that day. Orders placed after 1pm Eastern Time US or on non-business days, will begin being processed the next business day.
- Artwork Product: Lead time for products that require artwork does not begin until the artwork and/or proof has been approved. See the product page for more information about the artwork submission process. We cannot be held responsible for orders that are delayed because of artwork. Please review the artwork requirements for the product(s) prior to placing your order.
- Broken Case: Item(s) in the cart with a quantity that is not an even multiple of the product's case quantities will cause the broken case fee to be applied. Case quantity can be found on the product page. Case quantities allow us to reduce labor and material costs associated with packaging by efficiently packing the products during production. Orders placed for quantities that are not an even case pack require labor and materials to repack the product(s). The broken case fee is only applied once per order.

Description Specifications Ordering Info Images

This 8' wide, curved pop up booth offers an easy, customizable solution to your convention and trade show display needs. The neutral color and simple design is perfect for use as a backdrop at a convention, job fair or other public event. Covered with black, Velcro® receptive fabric, this pop up booth allows exhibitors to arrange any combination of accessories that is needed. Display acrylic literature holders filled with informational brochures, magazine holders with catalogs, or sign frames to capture the attention of show attendees. Since tradeshow typically involve travel and quick set ups, this Velcro® pop up booth can be set up in minutes, no tools required. Simply raise the lightweight frame from the ground and magnetic connectors will automatically snap-lock the pieces into place. The pop up booth features magnetic channel bars that are used to connect the fabric panels. There are 3 panels and 2 end caps that attach to the frame for a seamless finish.

Included with this pop up booth is a molded, hard plastic carrying case that features roller wheels and safety locks. As an added bonus, this high quality travel case converts into an attractive and useful exhibit counter that can serve a number of functions. Use the counter included with this pop up booth, as a place to address the audience, display literature, or demonstrate products. A black Velcro® wrap-around panel and laminate countertop are included as part of the conversion kit. We sell this pop up booth with two halogen spotlights to give your display added exposure at your next event. A foam-padded compartment in the case keeps them from breaking during transportation and storage. This pop up booth is a quality exhibit that will last for many years of use, and at these prices exhibitors won't find a better deal anywhere online!

Please Note: Prolonged exposure to high temperatures will cause the fabric panels to degrade and wrinkle.

Total Weight (all pieces packed into case): 80lbs

A Velcro® popup exhibit, such as a trade show display or convention booth, offers a great way to get a customized look at a very low cost. We sell this popup backdrop with halogen spotlights and a high quality travel case that converts into a presentation counter. Best yet, these additional features are included with your tradeshow backwall at no additional cost! Each Velcro® popup fixture unpacks readily and can be set up quickly within 10 minutes by just one person. The lightweight frame and magnetic components make this display easy to assemble, while the deluxe carrying case provides portability. Don't forget to add trade show display accessories to your order. These include sign frames, brochure holders and Velcro® brand strips that make it easy to customize your trade show display.

Displays2go offers this popup exhibit in a variety of colors, sizes and other options at our main booths exhibits category page. Since 1974, we have been constructing high-quality trade show, retail and POP display items designed to meet all of your marketing needs. Browse our complete product selection to find thousands of displays that are in-stock and awaiting your order.
