Keeping Our Kids Safe From Sex Trafficking

COMMERCIAL SEXUAL EXPLOITATION OF CHILDREN (CSEC): Awareness and Identification

Our speaker: Josephine Feemster, a sex traffic survivor and now advocate. Josephine Feemster is a passion-filled human trafficking activist whose story of resilience has inspired many. Having overcome incredible adversity on her journey toward living empowered, Josephine knew she was destined to make an impact on the lives of others who shared her experiences. She is a strong contributor to the "survivor-empowerment" movement. In the years to come, she aims to publish a memoir and continue to spread a message of freedom and justice for survivors of trauma across the country. Josephine is a founding member of the RISE Drop-In Center, a program for young survivors of sex trafficking in the California Bay Area and is trained in multiple CSEC methodologies: My Life/My Choice, Ending the Game and GEMs VSL.

You'll learn: •which children are vulnerable •signs of trafficking •how pimps operate •how to support victims •what services and supports are available locally

Workshops are Open to the Public – Walk-ins are always welcome!

All children, both girls and boys are being exploited. This topic is especially important for all caregivers as children involved in child welfare are especially vulnerable to exploitation.
