RX misano

RX misano is a high performing clinical chemistry analyzer. With its extensive test menu and unrivalled flexibility, it is ideal for educational courses. Increased testing options also allow you to offer a faster, more extensive overview eliminating the need for costly fully automated equipment. Its compact size means it will not take up valuable space. Simple step by step on-board instructions, touch screen application, optional on-board printer and easy to follow reports ensure the RX misano provides a consistent user performance producing results you can depend on.

- Touch Screen capability – compatible with gloves
- Export results via USB
- Ability to run the widest test clinical chemistry test menu on the market
- Automatic flagging ensures inaccurate results and testing errors are detected
- Ability to run flow cell mode or cuvette mode ensures a maximum number of chemistries can be performed on one system
- Automatic storage of up to 1000 results
- Superior built in QC software automatically generates Levey-Jennings charts
- 79 dedicated parameters

RANDOX

9th April 2019

To whom it may concern....

Randox Laboratories – US, Ltd is the sole manufacturer and sole seller for the RX Misano. It is the only semi-automated instrument in the market to have the following features:

- Touch Screen
- USB export of results
- Levey Jennings Charts
- Advanced Password protection.

Additionally, the offered price of $12,825 is currently the lowest price that can be offered for this instrument as a 10% educational discount has been applied for Folsom Lake College.

The original price for this instrument package without the educational discount is $14,250.

Sincerely,

Alyssa Asp
