Known as "Proposition 65", California's Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986, requires that warnings be provided if a product exposes California consumers to listed chemicals. At present, there are approximately 800 chemicals on the list. Proposition 65 does not restrict use or ban any product; it is a "right to know" statute requiring warnings. The law applies only in California, and covers all products distributed for use in the State. Not require this warning. ###WARNING: These chemicals in California to cause cancer
